

SacRiver Kennels Best Dog Breeding Facility – Missouri

When you're looking for one of man's best friends, it's worth finding a kennel that is committed to finding that perfect match. The team behind SacRiver Kennels have a wealth of experience behind them that ensures happy, healthy puppies that are perfect for families of all sorts. In GHP's Pet Products and Services Awards 2022, the team achieved truly breath-taking success. We dig a little deeper to see how this company has grown into one to watch!

What makes a dog stand out from the crowd? Is it an impressive pedigree? Is it care and love from birth? Is it a commitment to health that lasts for a lifetime? The team behind SacRiver Kennels think that all of these factors are a part of what makes the perfect puppy and why theirs have achieved such success. For years, this team has led the way when it comes to breeding dogs and has built a reputation that is second to none. With such an impressive pedigree of success behind them, it's little wonder that this team is proud to stand behind its dogs.

Located five miles southwest of Ash Grove, Missouri, this family-owned and operated kennel and breeding program offers a delightful range of small dogs, ideally suited to a host of different lifestyles. With breeds including Boston Terriers, French Bulldogs, Frenchtons (the team's own designer breed 1/2 Boston Terrier & 1/2 French Bulldog), Standard Shih Tzus, and Pocket Shih Tzus, there's something for everyone here. Some come from prestigious bloodlines indeed, with each being screened to ensure they have the right traits to make for a happy and healthy pet.

Happiness and healthiness is one of the core reasons that so many people turn to this team. Their promise is that when you buy one of their prize pooches, you will receive an animal which has a written health guarantee, vet check, current vaccinations, worming schedule and health certificate. So certain are the team of your satisfaction that they guarantee the puppy for 10 days from the date of purchase against Parvovirus, Distemper, Leptospirosis, Hepatitis, Parainfluenza, and Coronavirus.

No pet is simply born perfect, however, and the dogs at SacRiver Kennels are kept in a state-of-the-art facility, able to go outside as and when they please. A delightful indoor puppy playground is a major part of how the team ensure that their dogs are fully socialised, with puppies six weeks or older spending two hours a day in "Puppy Kindergarden". This gets them started on potty and leash training, as well as responding to simple commands. When they are finally adopted, they are ready and eager to be part of your family.

Of course, becoming part of a family goes both ways. A happy and healthy pup needs an enormous amount of care and attention, proper diet and a great deal of love. When they are handed over, these puppies have already been spoiled considerably and are looking forward to even more in their new homes. The team are happy to deliver where necessary, with a pet nanny on hand to ensure that the new addition to your life arrives happy and healthy.

It's clear that SacRiver Kennels provides their customers with pedigree pals that are second to none. If you're looking for your dream pooch, this talented team has to be your first port of call. Their commitment to quality, their passion for the sector and their ability to deliver sets them apart from the crowd. Their success in the Pet Products and Services Awards is well deserved and a credit to their skill and expertise.
